

IronOrbit Achieves Consecutive Recognition in Gartner®'s 2024 Magic Quadrant™ for Desktop as a Service

Tuesday, September 17th – Anaheim, CA – IronOrbit, a leading Desktop as a Service (DaaS) solution provider, is proud to announce its inclusion in the Gartner® 2024 Magic Quadrant™ for Desktop as a Service (DaaS) for the second year in a row. This distinction reflects IronOrbit's commitment to innovating DaaS solutions that serve the evolving business needs.

Being featured once again in the Gartner Magic Quadrant highlights IronOrbit's excellence in delivering a robust and customizable DaaS solution on its private cloud. IronOrbit's turnkey approach minimizes the effort and expertise needed from clients to build a comprehensive, efficient, and robust solution. IronOrbit's DaaS solution combines service availability, data storage, disaster recovery, enterprise grade security, extensive SLAs, and premium 24/7/365 US-based support.

"We are honored to be named by Gartner in the 2024 Magic Quadrant for Desktop as a Service," said Alexander Saca, CEO at IronOrbit. "This acknowledgment validates our commitment to excellence and our dedication to perfecting the end-user experience. Our high performance Managed DaaS solutions are designed to meet the specific needs of our clients, and optimized to their respective end user applications"

Gartner's Magic Quadrant is defined as a culmination of research in a specific market offering visual snapshots, in-depth analyses and actionable advice that provide insight into a market's direction, and vendor maturity. IronOrbit's recognition comes as a significant achievement, highlighting its commitment to the rigorous standards and competitive landscape in the DaaS industry.
